Following a successful 2017 with global growth that averaged nearly one new hotel opening per week, the brand, known for offering a bright and inviting atmosphere with warm, sunny service, is kicking off 2018 with four new properties.

“Hilton Garden Inn is proud to offer our inviting new upscale hotels – complete with an enhanced design focused on bright and airy communal areas – to both business and leisure guests,” said John Greenleaf, global head, Hilton Garden Inn.

“Our dedicated Team Members at these new hotels will continue to provide guests with the thoughtful touches that make each stay as delightful and memorable as possible.”
